

THE ROLE OF THE NCO IN LEADERSHIP, PART II

SUBCOURSE IS 7035

THE CENTER FOR ARMY LEADERSHIP
UNITED STATES ARMY COMMAND AND GENERAL STAFF COLLEGE
Fort Leavenworth, Kansas 66027

6 Credit Hours (Credit earned for TNSG only with TNSG Exam)

Edition Date: July 1991

SUBCOURSE OVERVIEW

This subcourse will provide you with basic information on duties, responsibilities and authority, provide a ready reference on the customs and traditions of the Army, introduce you to the ethical decision-making process and explain how to communicate effectively as a NCO.

"The Role of the NCO in Leadership" series of subcourses, (IS 7034 - IS 7037) are designed to assist the corporal through sergeant first class in the area of practical leadership application. This subcourse is part two of the series. In order to get the most out of these lessons we suggest that you enroll in IS 7034 before you take this subcourse. These courses were written to complement the leadership classes taught as part of the noncommissioned officer education system (NCOES).

If you have any questions pertaining to this subcourse please fill out one of the student inquiry sheets. This subcourse reflects current doctrine. In your work situation always refer to the latest publications. Use of a specific gender in this publication is used for ease of reading. Whenever the masculine or feminine gender is used, either gender is intended.

TERMINAL LEARNING OBJECTIVE

TASK: Describe the role of the NCO in an Army unit.

CONDITIONS: Given the subcourse instructional materials.

STANDARDS: As a minimum your description will include the duties, responsibilities, and authority of NCOs; the customs and traditions of the Army; the ethical decision-making and communications processes.